

We have had quite enough media mergers! Too many, I would say. You guys need to look at what you're doing to the lifeblood of our democracy, which is the information we need to make informed decisions. You're putting it all into the hands of a few, and that will spell disaster for the nation as it was designed to be operated. I know this will probably have little effect, but before you sell your soul to the big media tycoons and the mega-businesses that want further conglomeration of the media, look your children in the eye and ask them (and ask yourself) what the founding fathers would think of your actions. I think they would disapprove. We need to repeal the telecommunications act of 1996, not expand it. Shame on you for even considering relaxing the ownership regulations!
